Home of ham and—Bender's.
Cleanest cafe in town—Bender's.
Jim Ralston, the Camp Verde cattleman, was in on Saturday.

Dr. E. S. Miller, it is rumored, has joined the Chautauqua advance forces.
Mrs. Louisa Zook, of Calumet, Okla., arrives this morning to spend the summer with her son, Rev. W. H. Zook, and family.

C. W. Miller, the main hook of the Miller Construction Co., was in Flagstaff Wednesday. He came just to see about "bringing up father."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keefe returned Tuesday from Phoenix, where they had been spending a couple of weeks while Frank attended to business matters.

Abe Cauffman, of Williams, was in town Saturday. Mr. Cauffman had just returned from several months in Cuba, Jamaica and other Caribbean Sea islands.

You'll like Bender's restaurant best.

Mr. Graham, cashier of the state road camp at Riordan, was in Flagstaff Monday making arrangements for his camp, which he expects will put in a good part of the summer in that section on the Flagstaff-Williams road.

New 1921 Flagstaff city directories, residence and classified, with many interesting and valuable facts and statistics about Flagstaff and Coconino county, now on sale at The Sun office at $1.00 each. Supply is limited. Get yours now.

Chas. E. Phillips is now busy at his new second-hand store and carpet and rug cleaning emporium, at 9 North Beaver street. He has a special machine for washing carpets and rugs, which he cleans on your own floor until they look like new.

Al Doyle, who attended the old settlers' reunion at Phoenix last week, got home Saturday night. He says he had a glorious time and is warm in his praise of the splendid reception tendered the old settlers by Dwight B. Heard and the Arizona Republican.

Lou Charlebois came up from his winter sheep range at Wickenburg a few days ago to visit his family, remaining over for the wedding of his sister, an account of which is given in our society columns. He will leave for Wickenburg again the last of this week.

Jack Costigan and Jack Wilson returned on Saturday from Los Angeles, where they had been spending about ten days taking in the moving picture studios and shows. Mr. Costigan booked a lot of super-attractions for early showing at his Orpheum theatre.

Tom Drum came in Wednesday from his habitat at Stoneman Lake to exhibit his fine growth of whiskers, accumulated during the winter down at the lake. He says it is a great country in which to raise whiskers and h—l, but not much doing in the latter line these days.

A. C. Bartlett, of Chicago, father-in-law of Dwight B. Heard, of Phoenix, stopped at the Weatherford last night. Mr. Bartlett had been spending the winter in the southern part of the state and, with his male traveling companion and chauffeur, is motoring back to his home in the Windy City.

Charlie Murray, in on Monday from his store at the junction of the Flagstaff-Winslow and Grand Canyon roads, said that the tourists are coming in at a very lively rate out there. Charlie is doing all he can to route them this way, though he finds some of them determined to take the old road to the Canyon.

George W. Ferrell, of Doney Park, who, when he is not ranching or deputy-sheriffing is helping look after things at the Community House, was in this week and says the dance to be held out there a week from tomorrow night is going to be the biggest event they have had. An advertisement on another page tells all about it.

G. W. Bright, manager of the J. C. Penney store, will leave next week for Salt Lake City, to meet the managers of the Penney stores of the western states and representatives of various big manufacturers, and expects to buy a lot of goods at new low prices. Mrs. Bright will leave next week for Kansas, where her husband will join her for a visit with their home folks after which they will return together.

Among the several who spent all or part of Sunday at Mormon Lake were: Dr. and Mrs. Felix Manning, Mr. G. F. Manning, Sr., Tom Pulliam, Ed Babbitt, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Babbitt, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Draine, Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Slipher, Mr. and Mrs. Loren W. Cress, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Archer, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schmidt, Miss Lottie Paxton, Nic Lowery, Geo. See, Geo. W. Negray, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Stahl, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hillbrandt.

"Shorty" Prather, the little cuss who laid the trap which caused City Marshall Neill to step into an open coal hole at the Masonic temple recently, has come out with a scheme to beat o.h.c.l. He now goes to bed about sundown to keep from buying a fourth meal a day. There is only one fatal defect in the plan, and it is that the earlier he goes to bed the earlier he turns out in the morning, and his rising time now is so early that 'Nick' finds him sitting on the front step waiting for the place to open.

Tuesday morning, Mrs. Coit, of Clarkdale, who had been visiting here with her daughter, Mrs. Anna Gray, and her sisters, Mrs. Frank Zalesky and Mrs. C. C. Fredericks, left with Mrs. Gray for California, where Mr. Coit is just now. Her obliging brother-in-law, Con Fredericks, believing he could pilot the car better than the chauffeur, volunteered to drive them as far as Ash Fork. But he busted things up this side of Riordan and had to walk back and get his truck to tow the car in for repairs. As soon as it was fixed up, Mrs. Coit and Mrs. Gray took a fresh start for the coast.

Back to feed you—Bender.

Your young onions up yet?

Bender's restaurant for square meals.

Colin Campbell was in from Ash Fork on business this week.

A. J. Sullivan and Ralph Davis spent Monday in Seligman.

Henry Albers has been spending the recent windy weather in Los Angeles.

Judge F. W. Perkins left Saturday night for Kansas City and Joplin, Mo., to visit relatives. He will be back by May 2.

A. C. Neff, piano tuner, will be at the Commercial Hotel next week. Phone orders or leave with Sullivan & Taylor.

Fred Garing is nursing a sore shin. Seems Fred gave one of his horses a second forkful of hay, and the animal resented it.

W. R. McClurken left on Wednesday for Winslow, his mind fully made up to write a hundred thousand in life insurance there during the next week.

John A. Adams, district forest supervisor, went to Mormon Lake on Monday to make a survey of the land leasehold of the Montezuma Lodge company.

C. A. Keller and his son, Paul Keller, and J. F. Foster motored to Loya on Sunday, where Mr. Foster remained for a few days to attend to some work he has there.

Home of steaks and chops—Bender's

Harlow Yaeger came in a few days ago from his Canyon Diablo ranch. He has decided to postpone shearing until lambing is over. He says the feed there is splendid.

James Gallagher returned from Superior the first of the week. He has been down in that country helping Art Cushion poxmark the country with holes which are technically called mines down that-a-way.

David Babbitt, Sr., arrived home on Saturday from Los Angeles, where he had been called by the illness of his daughter, Miss Elaine, who was operated on last week in a Los Angeles hospital and is now nicely convalescing.

Charlie Prochnow, proprietor of the Commercial hotel, left on Saturday for Oatman, planning to stay there for a few days on business connected with the Oatman Amalgamated Gold Mining Co., of which he is secretary-treasurer.

New 1921 Flagstaff city directories, residence and classified, with many interesting and valuable facts and statistics about Flagstaff and Coconino county, now on sale at The Sun office at $1.00 each. Supply is limited. Get yours now.

Among Flagstaff visitors the first of the week were F. E. Harris and R. B. Bradley, of Oatman; Wilford Rogers, S. P. Rogers and Bill Rogers, of Snowflake; E. L. Spencer, of Leupp; Al Zeimer and wife, of Bellemont, and F. A. Green, of Cooley.

C. B. Wilson left on Wednesday for Long Beach, Calif., to bring back Mrs. Wilson and the children. They have been on the coast for four months, and the husband and father thinks that he has been a victim of married-single blessedness just about long enough.

Dr. and Mrs. Pace, of Murray, Utah, who had been spending a month visiting their relatives in Navajo and Apache counties and in the southern part of the state, stopped here for a few hours Saturday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bright, formerly of Murray. They were on the first leg of their motor journey back home.

James Coleman, who has gathered lumber in the woods around this section for many years, returned the first of the week from Agua Caliente, where he spent the winter selecting a few mining claims. He had one or two of them analyzed and found they contained about $80 worth of gold to the ton, but it was stuck around so tightly in the rock that he didn't bring much of it home.

Those eggs, how?—Bender's.

Our town has the distinction of having the biggest eater in the county. He is credited with being able to eat twenty-two hot biscuits at one sitting. Upon being asked as to the truth of the statement the other day, he replied: "It all depends on the biscuits; if made from Flavo Flour, 22 is about my average, but not my maximum capacity. Made from any other flour, about seven is my limit."

Mrs. M. W. Hughes left the first of the week for Sonora, Calif., to join her husband, who has been in the Golden State for several weeks. They will spend the summer there and then go farther east for the winter. Their friends here hope Mr. Hughes' health will soon be improved to such an extent that he and his charming wife can soon follow their inclinations and come back to Flagstaff to live.

An amusing incident came to our attention the other day. A minister from a neighboring town was dining at the home of one of our local citizens and the little boy of the family, aged seven, was asked to say grace. The youngster was inclined to confuse the sublime with the practical, as follows:

We thank thee, dear Lord, for this food;
Make us kind, loving and good;
Give us this day our daily bread
Made from Flavo Flour. 'Nuff said.
Amen.

Billy Switzer and family decided Sunday to eat dinner that day with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Patton, at Pump House ranch. Three of the girls, the Misses Reba, Louise and Agnes, concluded it would be more fun to walk part of the way; so, after listening carefully to dad's directions, they started out, planning to let the car pick them up down the road a little way. But, after they had gone a couple of miles, they decided to cut through the woods a short distance. Result: they got lost, and walked twelve miles before they finally reached the ranch, where they pampered their pore feet the rest of the day, wearing Mr. and Mrs. Patton's shoes.

For good eats, go to Bender's.

Even the young ladies are interested in the paint-up week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Roome and the Misses Strange, Pancake and Dodson, teachers at Emerson school, visited the Petrified Forest on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Metz and family and Miss Ardelle Switzer left on Sunday for Los Angeles, in the Metz car. They will remain on the coast for about two weeks, visiting friends.

Edgar Brandt, who was connected with the accounting force at Cooley until the lumber mill there shut down recently, is now a member of the staff at the First National bank, where he began work on Monday.

Acting on the advice of Lieutenant Colonel H. A. Hanigan that they make their rooms at the armory more club-like, Battery "A" boys, last week bought a big player-piano from Sullivan & Taylor and had it installed.

The Misses Geraldine Hogan, Marjorie Schrum, Edna Poisson and Ethel Holsinger and Messrs. W. R. McClurken, E. T. W. Coulter, A. J. Mackey and Horace E. Nay spent Sunday in Schulz Pass, where they had picnic dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hilkins, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Tackitt and Mr. and Mrs. Del Strong spent Sunday afternoon picnicking at Lake Mary.

Bill Berry, former fighting representative of The Sun, who went back to Cleveland, Ohio, several months ago because of the illness of his brother, is back in Flagstaff again, as pert and chipper as before and heartily glad to get back among his Arizona friends.

Floyd Jones, the ruddy complexioned cow wrangler of the Hay Lake country, was in Flagstaff a few days this week seeing friends. Floyd says that grass is coming fine down in that section of the country and cattle never looked better at this time of the year.

Take her to Bender's restaurant.

Mrs. Zane Grey, wife of the author, who devotes a great deal of her time to collaboration with him in his writing, arrived here in her car on Saturday, accompanied by a Mrs. Smith, of Chicago, and maid and chauffeur. They are motoring from the Grey home, near Pasadena, to the east. Mrs. Grey called at the home of Al Doyle, who has accompanied her husband in many of his hunting expeditions, but that gentleman had not returned from Phoenix. The party drove on to Winslow that night.

... BUILD NOW ...

"I've got a notion in my dome that I will build a cozy home when lumber prices tumble." He told her this with beaming pride, when asking her to be his bride, and he was far from humble. "I've got a notion in my brain," the girlie answered with disdain, "that you are not the fellow I would hanker to annex, for you disgrace your very sex; you've got a taint of yellow. Have you the nerve to ask a maid to wed, admitting you're afraid to build a place to take her? If that's the way you'd win a wife, you'd better lead a single life—or see the undertaker. I wouldn't choose a man like that, who had no place to hang his hat: I much prefer it single. You think that you are provident by hanging on to every cent so you can hear it jingle. My motto, 'Build Right Now,' is sane. Your hedging gives me quite a pain. You are not half a man, sir. The man I wed must not demur; must let no obstacle deter—and there you have your answer."

Flagstaff Lumber Co.

He—I'll build a cozy little home if you marry me—but I'll wait until lumber comes down to normal.

She—And I'll wait a great deal longer than that before I'll marry a gink like you.
